

A program to find the longest increasing subsequence was created by Niladri Chowdhury using array and recursive functions.